

WHAT IS YOUR SUPERPOWER?

PERSONAL CHALLENGE

What's Your Personal Superpower?

Everyone has one. It's that thing you're so naturally good at you can do it in your sleep. It comes so easily to you that you're surprised anyone else would be impressed at your ability to do it so well. Do you already know what it is? Answer the questions below to help you discover or confirm your Personal Superpower, then choose a symbol from page 2 that represents it or draw one in the box below!

ProTip: Ask your supervisor & co-workers to answer these questions for you as well!

What do people ask you to help them with most often—at home or at work—because they know you're really good at it, and you're happy to take on the challenge?

1

What would you be so happy doing you wouldn't even care if you were getting paid to do it?

2

What do you like about doing this activity?

What can you do or work on for long periods of time without getting tired or fatigued?

3

What talent or skill is used for this activity?

Reverse engineer it. What do you have to do that exhausts you or drains your energy?

4

What would be the opposite of that?

Write the answer that came up most often here
